No. 15 of 1922.

To THE HONOURABLE MEMBERS PARLIAMENT,

His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Dated, the 18th July 1922.

[Subject—Financial Conference at Simla.]

My Lords,—As your Lordship is aware, a conference was held at Simla in April last with the Finance Members and other financial authorities of the provincial Governments in order to consider various matters connected with the financial arrangements between the central Government and the provinces. We saw how the honours to submit a report on the more important matters discussed at the conference; you will be interested to know, if necessary, regarding certain other subjects which the conference gave an opportunity of discussing with the provincial representatives.

2. Before setting forth the conclusions reached in the conference on the matters with which this despatch deals, and your own views thereon, we have your attention to the enclosed statement* which sets forth the present financial position of each province as ascertained at the conference. It is a summary of the position in each province:—

The statement for the Punjab shows a deficit in the current year's budget of 42 lakhs, with a closing balance (to and from the Punjab Treasury Fund) of only Rs. 12,000. This province has had deficits for four years in succession and the chief cause of this is stated to be the necessity for increasing the pay of the accounts sub-officers staff which is required to maintain the very detailed system of administration. The provincial Government, while striving to reduce the large contributions payable by them in central revenues, have nevertheless had to reduce the salaries of their own sub-officers. They have recently abolished 40 gazetted posts and about 25,000 other posts including the subordinate staff maintained in villages. The Local Boards Department has been abolished, the Labour Department reduced to one officer, forwarding allowances have been reduced by 10 lakhs and the programme for education, sanitation and public works have been severely curtailed, the Public Works Department, in particular, having been reduced by an equivalent of 10 lakhs. The Government of Madras are further contemplating the abandonment of minor forest reserves, the replanting of abandoned by revenue collectors, the trial of civil cases in village courts instead of the courts of the district magistrates, the doubling up of districts, divisions, and taluks and other measures which, they consider, will seriously affect the efficiency of the administration. The deficit in the current year would have been very much higher had it not been that the provincial Government have taken steps to increase their revenues by Rs. 7½ lakhs from an increase in stamp duties and registration fees.

In Bombay the budget shows an expenditure of Rs. 68 lakhs in excess of income. The major portion of this deficit is due to the heavy expenditure on the account of debt in connection with the loans for developmental purposes, which, it is anticipated will ultimately be repaid from the sale of developed land. This province has also taken steps to increase its revenues by Rs. 25 lakhs of revenue from higher stamp duties.

The United Provinces is the only one that shows a revenue surplus in the current year. This province has been able to reach this comparatively satisfactory position owing to the measures of the contribution to the central Government, and to receipts from bank taxation amounting to Rs. 2,40 lakhs.

The budget of the United Provinces shows a deficit of nearly Rs. 27 lakhs. No additional taxation has been imposed in this province, except proposals, which the local Government have forwarded for the enhancement of the stamp duties having been rejected by the Legislative Council.

The Punjab budget shows a very heavy deficit of Rs. 1,28 lakhs in the current year, of which only about Rs. 22 lakhs are considered to be abnormal. This province not only has no balance but is expected to end the last financial year with a credit of Rs. 30 lakhs. No additional taxation has been imposed in order to close the large gap between current revenue and current expenditures, but it is anticipated that proposals for the enhancement of stamp duties, excise and other taxes will be considered.

In Burma there is a deficit of Rs. 1,40 lakhs in the current year, but as Rs. 3,00 lakhs of the expenditure is being financed from the portion of the budget which represents the amount which the province received from the central Government, there is no actual revenue surplus on the year's working of about Rs. 12 lakhs. This province has further a closing balance of about Rs. 3 lakhs.

The Bihar and Orissa budget shows a deficit of Rs. 20 lakhs in the current year. The local Government have under consideration proposals for increasing excise duty, for an increase in registration rates and a new land tax on villages. No legislation has yet been passed, but the local Government have raised the registration fee since the budget was passed.

The Central Province budget shows a deficit of nearly Rs. 17 lakhs, but the estimate of revenue is abnormally high including, as they say, Rs. 34 lakhs of suspended revenue of previous years, and the actual revenue deficit is put roughly at about Rs. 65 lakhs. No measures for additional taxation have yet been passed in this province, but the local Government have order consideration proposals for increases in salt duty, registration fees and stamp duties, which it is estimated might bring in about Rs. 11½ lakhs.

The Assam budget shows a deficit of Rs. 14½ lakhs, after allowing for additional revenue of some Rs. 3 lakhs from enhancement of stamp duties. The only further proposal at present under consideration of the local Government for raising additional revenue is the removal of registration fees.

It will be seen therefore that every province, with the exception of Bengal and Burma, is at present working on a deficit, that steps have been taken by the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and, to a certain extent, by Bihar and Cochin and Assam to meet additional revenue by increases of taxation, but that in the United Provinces, the Punjab, Burma, and the Central Provinces no additional revenue has yet been required.

It calls for the majority of the provinces at present working on a deficit but they also anticipate very considerable capital expenditure to be financed from loan funds.

The Government of Madras propose to undertake massive capital projects (mainly irrigation) in the next five years, involving a capital expenditure of about Rs. 4 crores; they have also in contemplation expenditure amounting approximately to Rs. 4 crores for non-irrigation capital projects chiefly in connection with building new roads; and they further anticipate that the local Indian in the Presidency will require for their own purposes loans aggregating Rs. 7½ crores. The total amount of loans which they themselves require or for the financing of which they will be responsible is approximately Rs. 15 crores in the next five years.

The Government of Bombay have a programme of capital expenditures on the Sukkias Damages and protective irrigation works which would require a provision of about Rs. 24 crores within the next five years; they also anticipate that they will require in connection with the Bombay Development Scheme, loans to local bodies, etc. (according to present information) about Rs. 24 crores in the next five years.

The Government of Bengal took a loan of Rs. 50 lakhs from the central Government last year and propose to take another loan of Rs. 50 lakhs in the current year on account of dredging which has already been ordered through the High Commissioner. (a) These latest capital expenditures they consider the most urgent (as far as the Howrah Bridge, the total cost of which work at not less than Rs. 24 crores. Towards this project the Calcutta Corporation and other local bodies will be required to contribute, but it has to be raised initially by the Bengal Government. They are also considering the question whether the Grand Trunk Canal Scheme which is estimated to cost about Rs. 24 crores will be necessary. If it is not necessary, the project will be dropped. The local Government also wish to take loans for general advance of development amounting to about Rs. 4 crores. They give their minimum requirements for the next five years at Rs. 7½ crores, viz. Rs. 24 crores for the Howrah Bridge and about Rs. 4 crores for general provincial schemes, but their minimum requirements must include an additional Rs. 2 crores for general provincial schemes and Rs. 2½ crores for the Grand Trunk Canal Scheme if it is to be worked on a constructive basis.

The United Provinces Government have already raised a loan of Rs. 4 crores, and in the current year they are drawing upon their balance to the extent of Rs. 1,30 lakhs. They contemplate that they will require no further loan until 1923, but that within the next five years they will have to raise further loans amounting to Rs. 14 crores for the purpose of executing irrigation schemes and schemes for the improvement of a communication and sanitation, for medical relief on the development of forests and for large building programmes, the average annual requirements from 1923 onwards being put at Rs. 3 crores.

The Punjab Government have under contemplation large schemes—mainly irrigation and hydro-electric projects—involving a total expenditure of about Rs. 47 crores in the next twenty years, the average annual interest required from loans being put at about Rs. 2 crores per annum during the next five years. These schemes include the Satlej Valley Irrigation Project and the Satlej River Hydro-Electric Scheme.

The Governments of Bihar and Orissa, the Central Provinces and Assam have no schemes of sufficient magnitude as to raise into consideration in the meantime, while Burma is still in a position to finance its immediate capital requirements from the balance of rice profits. The total requirements of the provinces for capital projects within the next five years may, therefore, be put at approximately Rs. 15 crores per annum.

It is obvious from the above review of the financial position and financial requirements of the provinces that action must speedily be taken to improve their financial position if they are to carry on their administration on the present basis and to undertake any of the improvements and schemes which they have in view. We recognise that the gradual reduction and final abolition of the provincial contributions would materially improve the financial position of most provinces. Our honorable colleague Mr. Havelock Elphinstone expressed, however, upon the provincial representation that, while we recognized the desirability of the financial position of most provinces, it would be responsible for us to give them any relief in the next future from this source. We think, indeed, that the provinces are now very fully relieved of our last two burdens and of the fact that, in spite of large increases in taxation imposed in our last two budgets and of the economies in expenditure already effected and, we may hope, likely to result from the appointment of Lord Curzon's Commission, that that position has been reached, a reduction of the provincial contributions cannot be looked for. As we have already stated, several provincial Governments have taken steps to enhance the value of the remaining revenues, in so far as their duties will not be hindered by the further economies which we understand they are contemplating, should better and without delay, for, as your Lordships has pointed out in your dispatch of the 21st March 1921, the financing of provincial deficits by advances from the central Government is not the best or most satisfactory expedient.

As regards the provincial programmes of capital expenditure, it is clear that an attempt to carry these through is full of difficulties and would place a very heavy strain upon the borrowing resources of the country as a whole, and the provincial representatives on these would feel all India interests might well resent the postponement of any of the schemes for expenditure desirable to less fortunate provincial Governments desirous to take it home. We need hardly say that we shall give this aspect of the situation very careful attention when exercising our power under the following rule.

8. With a full knowledge of the financial difficulties out of the steps taken to remove them both in the central Government and in each province, the conference proceeded to discuss the situation. Among the first subjects for consideration was the proposed programme of the Government of Bombay for a revision of the allocation of revenues between the Central Government and the provinces which was fixed by the Devolution Rules on the basis of the recommendations contained in the Mearns-Chesworth Report and the report of the Financial Relations Commission. In a letter addressed to the Government of India before the conference took place, the local Government pressed for a complete revision of the settlement, to be undertaken after full consultation with the representatives of the provinces. To-day this revision, which the local Government suggested would take time to complete, the Government of Bombay asked for temporary relief by the settlement to terminate on the third of the amount by which the revenue was affected by the central Government in each year exceeded the standard figure of 1930-31. When the conference assembled, the Bombay representatives put forward a suggestion that a system of divided heads might again be considered, and proposed that the local Government should in future send in half the amount affected in consequence in the Presidency and should cede to the central Government in return one-half of the savings of land revenues.

9. The representatives of all the other provinces strongly opposed the establishment of any idea of revision to a system of divided heads. We completely identify ourselves with this opposition. The abolition of divided heads was emphasized as a most important feature of the reform proposals in paragraphs 109 and 205-218 of the Mearns-Chesworth Report, and was accepted as such without further discussion by all authorities concerned. A clear division of functions between the central and local Governments was the basis of the whole scheme of reform, and we consider it outrageous that, unless such a division is made and strictly separate revenue resources are assigned to each Government, there can be no provincial autonomy in any sense of the term.

10. The representatives of the other provinces, with the exception of Bengal, advised strong disapproval of the proposal to revise the financial settlement. While they laid the greatest possible stress upon the necessity for the speedy reduction and abolition of the provincial constitutions, they held firmly to the view that the existing financial settlement, as contained in the Devolution Rules, should be retained intact. They pointed out that the settlement had been made after full consultation by an impartial committee and had been accepted by Parliament after every province had been allowed to state its views regarding the proposals of the Financial Relations Commission, and they urged that the arbitrary arrangements as fixed should be rigidly observed. The only difference in the attitude of the Bengal representatives from that of the other provinces was that, while the representatives of other provinces were strongly opposed to any disturbance in the basis of the present distribution of revenues between the central and local Governments, the Bengal representatives stated that the provinces they had advised under the existing settlement were insufficient to cover the cost of the ordinary administration as it stood at the time of the introduction of reforms, that the relief afforded by the cessation of the provincial contributions was insufficient, and that, while they quite realized that in the existing financial position it was impossible for the central Government to afford any further relief at present, they would, when the financial position of the Government of India improved, agree to cede a share that some additional source of revenue should be assigned to them.

11. All provincial representatives were further most emphatically of opinion that, since the allocation of provinces between the central and local Governments and the establishment of the local Governments had been definitely fixed by statute, no action should be taken by the Secretary of State in Council or by the Government of India for the benefit of any province which would be likely to prejudice the interests of other provinces, without the latter being given an opportunity of expressing their views thereon. In particular, the assurance to the Bengal Government was cited as an example in which action was taken without any previous consultation, the result being, in the opinion of the other provinces, that their interests had been prejudicially affected. All members attending the conference were unanimously of opinion that, should there be any question of disturbing the settlement as embodied in the Devolution Rules, no action should be taken in that direction until the proposal had been referred to, and considered by, an impartial committee before which each province should have an opportunity of stating its case.

12. We are in entire agreement with the view expressed by the provincial representatives that no question of altering in any way the present financial settlement should be considered except by an impartial committee and after full discussion with each of the provinces. We further agree with the representatives of all provinces, except Bombay and Bengal, that the present settlement should be retained intact. We adhere to the view expressed in our first Reference despatch that it is essential that the financial arrangements between the central and provincial Governments should be free from ambiguity, and we are of opinion that it would be most desirable to hold out hope to the provinces of the possibility of the present financial settlement being disturbed—at all events until the provincial constitutions have been abolished. Any such hope would have the effect of encouraging the provincial Legislative Councils to continue now expenditures without understanding the liability of raising the necessary revenues. Without financial responsibility there can be no responsible Government. We would remove the understanding, given in the despatch of Lord Chelmsford's Government No. 218, dated the 28th June 1911, that we would work our financial policy towards reforming, and ultimately abolishing, the existing financial system, but, as stated in that despatch, we can give no undertaking as to the definite period within which the contributions will be abolished or as to the pace of reduction. You are aware of our present financial position, of the heavy additions we have made to the total of taxation from which our direct revenues are derived out of the appointment of a Detachment Committee to effect the almost possible reduction in expenditure. As my answered despatch amounts to about Rs. 16 crores and provincial contributions to another Rs. 15 crores, it is obvious that, unless a method is found to make results in the narrowing of the present gap between revenue and expenditure, very considerable reinforcements will have to be effected or substantial additional taxation imposed before the proposed contribution can be abolished.

11. Neither can we accept the proposal of the Government of Bombay for a temporary increase of the resources of the local Government by the assignment to it of one-third of the growth of revenue from stamp duties. We adhere consistently to the view as to this source of revenue which was expressed by Lord Chelmsford's Government in paragraph 7 of their despatch No. 554, dated the 21st June 1921. Moreover, any reduction of the amount of growing revenues at the disposal of the local Government must rest upon the province generally; and the proposal to make such a reduction, even as a temporary measure, without full consideration of the views of other provinces, seems to the Government at Fort St. George to be inadvisable. We therefore recommend that the proposal should be rejected.

12. If you agree with our conclusions we would ask your permission to publish this despatch, and your reply thereto. We have been much impressed by the views expressed by the representatives of the provinces as to the necessity for the publication of a clear statement on the financial position in order to secure a more intelligent apprehension and to reflect clearly to the members of the Central and provincial legislatures the scope of their financial responsibilities in their respective spheres.

INDIA OFFICE, LONDON,
24th November 1922.

Financial No. 47.

TO THE HONOURABLE THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER AND OFFICING-GOVERNOR OF INDIA IN COCHIN.

My Lord, I have considered in Great year Financial Despatch No. 13, dated 13th July 1922 to which you refer the result of the conference held at Simla in April last with financial representatives of Provincial Governments to discuss various matters arising out of the financial situation in the provinces, and your conclusions thereon. It appears from that the conference has served a valuable purpose. Issues of great importance to the stability of the Central and the local Governments have been carefully explained by officers conversant with the difficulties that at present surround Indian finance. Though complete agreement on all points may not have been attained, it may be hoped that the removal of misunderstandings will result in the better co-ordination of the efforts of all concerned in the task of restoring to a sound position the finances of India as a whole.

5. The financial statements forwarded with your despatch set out the position in the several provinces and justify the serious nature which your Government and I have for some time felt on the subject. The estimated revenue and expenditure of the nine provinces for 1922-23 is as follows:—

	Madras	Bombay	Madras	United Provinces	Punjab	Burma	Nizam and Gwalior	Central Provinces and Berar	Assam	Total.
Revenue (including new taxation)	37.27	16.88	35.36	13.13	12.28	19.81	4.80	9.35	9.80	68.28
Expenditure	37.78	16.84	35.17	13.16	12.28	19.81	4.84	9.21	9.81	68.28
Deficit	0.51	0.06	0.01	0.03	0.00	0.00	0.04	0.06	0.01	0.62
Surplus	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00
Net deficit (all provinces).										0.62

* Excluding all the public debts.

Explanation between revenue and expenditure is only found in two provinces, Burma and Punjab, and in the latter the result has only been attained by the temporary resources of 1922-23 in the Central Government. The aggregate deficit of the other seven provinces, amounting to 55 lakhs, will be covered by drawing on balances and by loans from the public and the Central Government. It may be remarked, however, that the promise of financing provincial deficits in part from the accumulated reserve balances of the past will not necessarily come to an end, as such balances will be generally exhausted by the end of the current financial year.

3. I think it is fair to say that the year 1922-23 was a year of financial stress and strain for the Central Government and the local Governments must find that the expectations held when the financial settlement was drawn up have been disappointed. It was then hoped that the increased resources placed at the disposal of the provinces as a result of that settlement would meet them in financing large schemes of economic and social development, for which the need is generally recognised. In spite of the most faithful work of these bodies, it still remains true that the settlement laid down as the result of the Financial Relations Committee's Report has placed at the disposal of Local Governments considerably more which would not have seemed to them under the prevailing arrangements. But so far from being available for meeting new demands, the money, for reasons in the main beyond the control of the authorities, has had to be largely devoted to discharging the increased cost of administration, due primarily, in the general case in point, from which India is suffering in common with other countries of the world.

There has, in these circumstances, perhaps not apparently, been a tendency in some quarters to assume that the obvious remedy is the immediate resumption or reduction of provincial contributions. But such a measure would do nothing towards increasing the aggregate of the resources available for meeting Central and Provincial expenditures, and so long as the balancing of the Central Budget has not been achieved, its only effect would be to transfer responsibility for a further deficiency of revenue to the Central Government. The expenditure in the Central Government's Budget of 1901-02 and 1902-03 of additional grants, estimated to produce 25 crores of additional resources (apart from the yield from increased Railways and Postal charges), leaves a gap which is estimated in paragraph 10 of your Despatch at about 18 crores between the Government of India's revenue and expenditure; and the increase of this deficiency by a general reduction of the provincial contributions would not only be highly prejudicial to the interests of your Government, but would also affect the credit of India as a whole to the detriment of the Provincial Governments. While no relief, in present circumstances, could be for the moment from this direction, and no pledge can be given as to the period in which reduction or resumption will be practicable, I fully endorse your proposal to meet for the time being the deficiency that you will shape your financial policy towards the reduction and ultimate extinction of the contributions.

6. It is, of course, impracticable to make a change in the settlement assigned in the Despatch India approved by Parliament for the purpose of redistributing the resources of the provinces between themselves. I am, therefore, forced to the conclusion in paragraph 16 of your Despatch, that the present system as laid down in the Despatch India should be maintained. The sole alteration, hitherto made, viz., that in favour of Bengal, was, as you are aware, only decided as in view of the special recommendation at the end of that province made by the Joint Select Committee in their Report to Parliament on the Despatch India before their adjournment. For the reasons which I have stated above, I am also unable to accept the proposals yet forwarded by the Government of Bombay for the modification of the existing settlement.

7. If the financial stability of the provinces is not to be undermined, with ultimate injury to the Government of India itself, it is impossible to contemplate the continuance of a state of provincial deficits financed by borrowing either direct from the public or from the Central Government. Equilibrium can only be achieved by reduction of expenditure and the adoption of measures which will lead to an increase of revenue.

I note that action has already been taken in some provinces in both these directions. Owing, doubtless, to the necessity for taking such steps without delay, the authorities of provinces which have not yet done so might with advantage consider forthwith whether they would not be well advised to follow the example of the Central Government in appointing a Retrenchment Committee. It is also not clear whether reduced attention has been given to the application of all possible local resources of provincial revenues. The high prices which India credit has in the past enjoyed was due to the careful management of Indian finances, and a rapid deterioration would be certain to follow if matters are allowed to drift. It is incumbent upon the Local Governments and their Legislatures to face the situation with courage and resource and with a fixed determination to accomplish the bettering of their budgets.

8. The considerations I have stated above have also an important bearing on the capital programme of the Provincial Governments. I share your view that the despatch in full of all the provincial programmes of capital expenditure, together with your own heavy annual requirements, is likely at the best to place an unduly heavy strain on the loanable resources of India as a whole when approached by the home loans in the United Kingdom. The danger of this is entirely increased, in addition to borrowing for productive purposes, the provinces have to rely on loans for meeting expenditure which should properly be met from revenues. When the Financial Legislatures make their future to secure Budget equilibrium cannot but involve all schemes for social progress and for the development of provincial resources, I feel assured that they will support the Executive Government in the adoption of the necessary measures for remedying the existing position.

9. I need also that Despatch without an expression of regret that the new Provincial Councils should, like the Legislative Assembly, have found themselves, as early in their history, confronted with a financial situation of such difficulty. The task of solving the financial problem is a primary function of government, and I am confident that the heavy burden of responsibility placed on the provinces will be fully shouldered.

I approve your proposal to publish your Despatch and this reply.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servant,

NOTIFICATIONS.

Fort St. George, December 24, 1923 (G.O. No. 1005, Mysore).

No. 507.—The Examiner of Local Fund Accounts has brought to the notice of Government that the collection of local fund accounts before works are commenced is of very frequent occurrence both in local boards and municipalities. As the collection may vary often lead to complications and costly law-suits, presidents of district boards and chairmen of municipalities are requested to see that no work is commenced in future without duly executed agreements.

E. S. LLOYD,
Secretary to Government.

Port St. George, December 15, 1922 (G.O. No. 1514, L. & F. M.).

No. 898.—At present elections of members, presidents and vice-presidents of district boards, and of presidents and vice-presidents of taluk boards, should be avoided in the Port St. George Gazette. The Government hereby direct that, in the case of the election of members of district boards and of presidents and vice-presidents of taluk boards, the notification for publication in the Gazette should be forwarded to the Department of Government Press, through the president, district board, concerned. They further direct that notifications regarding the election of presidents or vice-presidents of taluk boards, except in those cases in which they are sent after the approval of the president, district board, should be forwarded for publication through the Collector of the division.

Port St. George, December 15, 1922 (G.O. No. 1514, L. & F. M.).

No. 899.—In G.O. No. 2059 L. & M., dated 27th October 1922, the Government notified for general information the draft of a rule which they proposed to make regarding correspondence between taluk board or a union board with the Government and published it in the Port St. George Gazette of the 15th October 1922. The objections and suggestions received have been considered by the Government. The following amendments will be made:—

(i) The following sections will be inserted after the first section:—

"All communications between a union board and the president, district board, shall pass through the president of the taluk board."

(ii) In the second section the words "in case of urgency" shall be inserted after the words "the president of the union board" and the words "as to the president of the district board as the case may be" shall be inserted after the word "Government". The rules as thus amended are confirmed and the requisite notification has been published in the Port St. George Gazette.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

In execution of the powers conferred on them by sub-section (1) and clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 153 of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, the Local Government make the following rule in the intermediate offices through which correspondence between local boards or between a local board and the Local Government shall pass:—

All correspondence between a taluk board and the Local Government shall pass through the president of the district board; and all correspondence between a union board and the Local Government shall pass through the president of the taluk board and the president, district board. All correspondence between a union board and the president, district board, shall pass through the president of the taluk board. It is however open to the president of the taluk board as the president of the union board in case of urgency to submit an advance copy of his communication direct to the Government or to the president of the district board as the case may be, the original, however, being sent through the channel mentioned above.

Port St. George, December 19, 1923.

No. 901.—The following G.O. No. 1016, Finance, dated 27th November 1922, is published for general information:—

In their report submitted to the Government in November 1922, the Financial Relations Committee accepted the principle laid down by the Government of India that the audit of local and municipal expenditure should not be any less strict or efficient than that now applied to Central and Provincial expenditures. They further pointed out certain defects in the existing system of audit which they attributed to inefficient staff and inadequate supervision and recommended the adoption of a system of audit centralized in Madras. The subject was further examined by the Accounts Committee appointed in G.O. No. 1533-A.M., dated 29th September 1923; and in their report submitted to Government in January 1924, the Committee, while endorsing the opinion of the Financial Relations Committee and expressing the view that a more satisfactory and efficient system of audit was urgently called for, recommended that audit should be centralized in each district headquarters, instead of in Madras as recommended by that Committee.

The Government have had under their consideration the above recommendations and they now proceed to pass orders thereon.

2. Under the existing system, the (a) audit of the accounts of district, taluk and union boards is enunciated and is carried out at each district headquarters by the local Audit branch of the Collector's office under the supervision of the Treasury Deputy Collector, the staff being under the administrative control of the Collector of the district. In addition, periodical local inspections of the taluk board and major union offices are carried out by a senior clerk deputed by the Treasury Deputy Collector. There is also an annual test audit by the peripatetic staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts.

As regards the district municipalities, a detailed audit of the receipts and expenditure is conducted half-yearly by the staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts.

3. The initial audit of local boards accounts as at present conducted monthly by the local audit branch of the Collector's office suffers from the fact that the supervision exercised by the Treasury Deputy Collector is inadequate, this being largely due to his pre-occupation with other duties. As a result there have not infrequently been applications for additional establishment to clear off arrears which, when answered, disclosed the fact that the arrears were mainly the result of slackness and indifference arising from the want of proper supervision. Further, the clerks in the Local Audit branch, forming as they do part of the Collector's general establishment, are constantly liable to transfer from one department to another, and this has been far from conducive to the efficiency and continuity of audit. The clerks have often been found unequal to their work for want of experience and that proper training which so one has had time to give them. As a result, frivolous objections are raised while grave irregularities may pass unnoticed.

On the other hand, the test audit by the participating and trained staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts is an inadequate remedy for these defects. It is confined to two months' accounts out of twelve, with the result that serious irregularities are not brought to light unless they happen to have occurred during the months selected for test audit. Further, as it is only an annual audit, when irregularities are brought to notice, it is long after their occurrence, thereby making it difficult, and in many cases impossible for the administrative authorities to fix responsibility or to make recoveries in case of overpayments.

4. The value of the half-yearly audit of the accounts of the district municipalities conducted by the staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts is similarly largely discounted by the fact that it is not concurrent and the reports are received too late to be really useful. The Government have received representations that if audit is to be helpful to municipal councils, losses due to under-accounts and other irregularities should be brought to notice more promptly so as to enable the councils to take immediate steps to rectify matters. This is particularly desirable in view of the provision in the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1933, which makes such losses surchargeable; it has been suggested that for this purpose a monthly audit in the case of the headquarter municipalities and at least a quarterly audit in the case of others is essential.

5. For the reasons explained above, and in view of the growing importance and resources of local boards and municipalities and the increased financial powers and responsibilities conferred upon them by the Madras Local Boards Act of 1930 and the Madras District Municipalities Act of 1933, the Government consider that the time has come for a reorganisation of the existing system of audit, and that such a reorganisation is also a necessary corollary of the division of audits into Imperial and Provincial. As regards the stations at which audit should be conducted, the Auditor-General in India, who was consulted, is of opinion that the recommendation of the Accounts Committee to centralise it in each district headquarters should be adopted. The Government have accepted this view.

6. The Examiner of Local Fund Accounts has therefore drawn up a detailed scheme for centralising the audit in each district headquarters in connection with which the Hon'ble Mr. E. K. Lloyd, L.C.S., was also consulted as desired by the Finance Committee at its meeting on the 11th November 1935. The principal features of the scheme are described below:—

(a) The clerical establishments of the Local Audit branch of the Collector's office now engaged on the audit of local boards accounts will be amalgamated with the establishment of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts and the whole staff will work under the direct administrative control of that officer. The strength of each office will be increased to the extent necessary for the audit and inspection of the accounts of all local bodies or other authorities or institutions in each district for which under the new arrangements the Local Government will be responsible. The audit will be concurrent in the case of local boards accounts as at present, as well as in the case of headquarter municipalities; while the accounts of the outlying municipalities will ordinarily be subjected to a quarterly audit, though it will be open to the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts to arrange, at his discretion, for a regular monthly audit of any one or more of the outlying municipalities. The local inspection of taluk board and union offices will also be conducted by his staff.

(b) The audit of the Special Fund Accounts and the staff engaged thereon will be transferred to the Accounts section and the work will be supervised by the English Head Accountant, under the control of the Treasury Deputy Collector as at present, as this audit will ultimately be taken over by the Indian Audit Department.

(c) With a view to ensure effective supervision over the work of the enlarged District audit staff, there will be appointed to each district, except the Nigiria, which for this purpose will be attached to Calicut, a senior officer called Inspector of the auditing of the present Assistant Inspectors of Local Fund Accounts; and to secure co-ordination of audit work in the different districts and to enable the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts efficiently to supervise his staff, the Presidency will be divided into three audit circles, each circle being under a gazetted officer. One of these gazetted officers who will be specially selected will be designated "Deputy Examiner of Local Fund Accounts" and will have his headquarters at Madras, while the others will be called "Assistant Examiners of Local Fund Accounts"; their headquarters will be determined later on as each circle is formed.

The entire staff will be under the direct administrative control and supervision of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts as head of the Local Fund Audit Department.

7. The proposition statement printed as an annexure to this order shows the establishment which it is anticipated will be required to provide for all the audits for which the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts will be responsible and the financial effect of the scheme when it is given effect to in all the districts. As, however, the present state of the finances of the Presidency does not permit of the introduction of the entire scheme at once, it will have to be spread over more than one financial year. In order to enable the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts to give effect to the scheme as funds are made available, the Government now sanction the proposition statement. It is hoped, however, that the detailed examination, hereafter referred to, will enable economies to be effected as regards the clerical staff and as the scheme can only be introduced as funds are made available, the following instructions are laid down for the guidance of the Examiner.

8. The Examiner will determine the requirements of each district in turn by means of a detailed examination and will take up in the first place those districts which are to form, in addition to Madras city, the circle of the Deputy Examiner. As soon as his examination is complete in respect of a particular district, he will submit his proposals to the Government with full information and a statement of the financial results. He will also report, after full consultation with the Collector, how it is proposed to absorb the establishment of the local audit branch of the Collector's office, how many will be transferred to the new local audit establishment, how many will be transferred to the ordinary line and how it is proposed to utilise the services of the rest. Should any difference of opinion arise between the Collector and the Examiner, it will be referred to the Government through the Board of Revenue for orders. On receipt of this report, instructions will issue to the Examiner with reference to the funds available whether he may proceed with the introduction of the scheme in the district in question.

9. Admission to the new audit establishment will be subject to liability to transfer to any part of the Presidency at the discretion of the service may require in respect of all clerks in the first grade and those holding higher appointments.

10. As the new scheme is introduced in each district, questions will arise as to the provision of accommodation, furniture and stationery for the enlarged staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts. The following general instructions are therefore issued. The Collector will permit the Examiner to utilise the accommodation at present provided for the local fund branch and its records. When it is possible to allot a separate room for the Examiner's staff, this should be done. The furniture now in use in the local audit branch should be transferred to the Examiner's office. As regards stationery, the Collector will transfer to the Examiner's office the quota of the stationery intended for the present local audit branch for the remaining months of the year. The Examiner will be responsible for all future supplies and contingencies and will make the necessary arrangements. In order to enable the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts to commence the detailed examination of districts, the appointment of a gazetted Assistant on the pay specified in the proposition statement will be now sanctioned and the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts will submit proposals for filling up the post and that of the Deputy Examiner.

Fort St. George, December 14, 1922 (G.O. No. 2291, L. & M.)

No. 905.—In their Order No. 1403, L. & M., dated 22nd December 1921, the Government announced under section 27 (1) of the Madras Village Panchayat Act, 1916, the sanction of the appointment of Registrar of panchayats for a period of one year from 15th December 1921, for the whole of the area to which the Act extends, and appointed M. R. S. Raj Bahadur N. Gopalan as Registrar for that office, designating him as Registrar-General of Panchayats.

2. The Government have carefully considered the question of the continuance of this appointment and have come to the decision that it is necessary to extend it for a period of one year from 15th December 1922. M. R. S. Raj Bahadur N. Gopalan as Registrar General will continue as Registrar General of Panchayats during that period.

3. The Government also sanction the appointment up to 15th December 1923 of the staff now working under him. Separate orders will issue in regard to the additional staff asked for and sanctioned in the pay of the existing staff. The question of providing funds for the payment of travelling allowances to temporary officers and for the payment of grants to village panchayats is under consideration and action will issue later.

4. M. R. S. Raj Bahadur N. Gopalan as Registrar General will also, without prejudice to his duties as Registrar-General of Panchayats, continue to exercise all the powers of an Inspector of Municipalities, and Local Boards under section 16 of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920 and a section 16 of the Madras Local Boards Act, 1914, and to assist in the consideration of temporary disbursement—debenture in municipal areas. His duties in connection with local bodies will include supervision of the execution of local bodies that are in financial difficulties, and reporting on the status of these local bodies and recommending remedial.

No. 906.—The following G.O. No. 2289, L. & M., dated 15th December 1922, is published for general information:—

No. 910.—The following G.O. No. 2022, Revenue, dated 14th November 1922, is published for general information:—

Proceedings of the Board of Revenue (Land Revenue and Settlement),
No. 100, dated 1st December 1921.

N. MACDONALD, Esq., I.C.S.,

Secretary of Land Revenue and Settlement.

Read—the following paper:—

G.O. No. 2688, Revenue, dated 1st November 1921.

Resolutions—No. 180, dated 1st December 1921.

Communicated to the Collectors of all districts except Anjengo.

2. Pending further orders Collectors are requested to give effect to the revised scale of pay for the land records deputy surveyors only. The total cost of this staff during the current year under the revised scale of pay comes to Rs. 12,824. This can be met from the total amount of Rs. 12,955 provided in the budget against "L.C. Land Records—District charges—Maintenance of land records—Executive subordinates—Salaries—Deputy surveyors and personal allowance to assistant inspectors and deputy surveyors."

3. On account of the altered conditions due to the abolition of the office of the Land Record Tahsildar and the Assistant Director of Land Records, the Board in its Resolution No. B. 1042/21-1, dated 28th September 1921, proposed that maintenance work required in the interests of Government in towns and unions should be looked after by the revenue and revenue inspectors under the supervision of the Tahsildar and the Revenue Decentral Officer and that the town and union surveyors should be treated entirely as the servants of the municipalities and local boards concerned. If these proposals are approved it will be for the local bodies to fix the pay of their surveyors. The Board accordingly suggests to Government that the revised scale of pay for town surveyors should not be introduced pending orders on the Board's proposals mentioned above.

4. Under the sanction conveyed in G.O. No. 761, Revenue, dated 25th April 1921, one head surveyor on Rs. 75-3-100 and five deputy surveyors on Rs. 25-1-50 are employed for the assistance of the survey in the Madras City. The proposal to place the town and union surveyors entirely under the control of the local bodies does not affect the maintenance staff in the Madras City which is under the administrative and technical control of the Tahsildar of Madras. The Board accordingly considers that revised scales of pay should be introduced for the latter staff with effect from 1st March 1921, and requests that Government will be pleased to sanction the following scales:—

Head surveyors.—Rupees 75—5—125. This is the revised scale sanctioned for head surveyors in the Survey department.

Deputy surveyors.—Rupees 40—11—2—45—1½—80.

5. Proposition statements in duplicate in regard to the land records deputy surveyors and the maintenance staff in Madras City are submitted for the sanction of Government.

2. The entries in the column 'present scale' of the proposition statement have been checked and found to agree with the Audit registers of this office with the exception of the pay of the Land Records Deputy Surveyor of Cuddalore district which is shown in the Audit register of this office as Rs. 80—1—55. The average cost shown in the proposed scale has been corrected, wherever necessary.

3. Any extra expenditure that may be involved on account of the fixing of the initial pay in the time-scale basis of the establishment for maintenance work in the City of Madras should be met by reappropriation.

C. E. GUTHRIE,
Deputy Accountant-General.

To the Secretary to Government, Revenue Department.

Order—Mls. No. 2023, Revenue, dated 14th November 1921.

The proposition statement giving effect to the revised scale of pay for land records deputy surveyors is sanctioned. It will be given effect to from 1st March 1922.

2. The Government do not consider it desirable that the introduction of the revised scale of pay sanctioned for the town and union surveyors in G.O. No. 3399, Revenue, dated 1st November 1921, should be held up pending decision of the question of placing them exclusively under the control of the local bodies. They consider that the revised scale of pay should be given effect to from 1st March 1922 for town and union surveyors also so long as the existing arrangement for the pay, rent and control of the staff continues. The scale will not necessarily be applicable and is liable to alteration if and when the control of the staff is exclusively transferred to local bodies. The Board of Revenue is requested to submit a proposition statement in duplicate through the Accountant-General for sanction.

3. The Government also sanction with effect from 1st March 1923 the revised scale of pay for the following establishment employed on the maintenance of land records in the Madras City:—

	Per annum
	Rs.
One head surveyor	75—5—100
Five deputy surveyors	40—45—7—60—14—20
One draughtsman	40—45—11—50—5—45
One peon	10—20

The proposition statement giving effect to the above scale is sanctioned. This sanction has been registered as No. 50 of 1922-23. On the introduction of the revised scale of pay the establishment will cease to draw the temporary additions to pay sanctioned in O.O. No. 700, Financial, dated 2nd August 1920 and No. 730, Financial, dated 25th August 1920.

Any extra expenditure that may be involved on account of this revision should be met by reappropriation.

(By order of His Governor in Council.)

E. W. LUSH,
Acting Secretary to Government.
